01 PROFILE

Multidisciplinary Software Engineer and Developer

I am a versatile and passionate software engineer with expertise spanning multiple disciplines. My journey began with foundational skills in C++ programming and mathematics, which laid the groundwork for advanced knowledge in Python, Kotlin, and Java for software and application development.

My proficiency extends to databases, Internet of Things (IoT), and the Android operating system, where I specialize in creating innovative and efficient solutions. With a strong foundation in analytic and conceptual modeling of system software, I excel in understanding and designing complex systems. Additionally, I have extensive experience in modeling business processes and applying industry-standard frameworks for software engineering.

In the realm of creativity, I bring skills in Blender for virtual reality, crafting 3D models to enhance user experiences. My expertise also covers networking and testing software, ensuring systems are robust, secure, and reliable. With a strong command of the English language, I am adept at communication and collaboration in global, multidisciplinary teams.

This diverse background positions me to contribute effectively across multiple domains, from innovative app development to advanced system modeling and virtual reality solutions.
